DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to the amendment filed 6-17-2004, which has been entered. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 10-19 and 24-30 are currently pending.

Claim Objections

1. Claim 6, 7 30 are objected to because of the following informalities: "one or more of the springs to the or said one or more springs" Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-3 are ejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, line 17, the phrase "spring bias" is unclear because it is not clear which spring is being referred to. It appears that the spring is "the one or more springs". If this is so then the claim must be amended to recite either "said one or more springs" or "the one or more springs".

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Art Unit: 3682

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP(60-65945). JP(60-65945) discloses a power transmission chain and tensioner comprising a plurality of sprockets (3, 4), a chain (5) wrapped around the plurality of sprockets, a rotary hydraulic fluid tensioner comprising a stationary portion (10), a rotatable portion (13) moveable in a planar rotation about a center pivot and in fluid communication with a hydraulic source, the rotatable body having an outer face provided with a tensioner arm (12) operatively connected thereto, a first chamber (15) within the tensioner, a spring (14) disposed within the space between the tensioner arm (12) and the and the base member (9), the tensioner arm having a friction surface (7) positioned in contact with at least one of the chain strands and such that the hydraulic fluid pressure and the spring bias the arm and maintains the rotatable body in a position to hold the friction surface against the chain.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 5-7, 10-19 and 24-30 are allowed.

7. Claims 1-3 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Note, the claims must be amended to overcome the claimed objections as set forth in paragraph 1 above.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 6-17-2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant contended that the Minoru reference does not recite the chamber is disposed to move the rotating body about a pivot point. It should be noted that the spring force of Minoru gives only a certain tension to the chain. This means that the hydraulic chamber is disposed to pick up the slack left by the spring. The spring provides a certain biasing force to the arm and when the force is too large the hydraulic fluid is set upon to compensate for the larger force by causing the arm to rotate to bias the chain. Therefore, for reasons given above, the rejection is deemed proper.

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
